Bisous Limoux

Media kit

Editorial scope

Bisous Limoux is an English and French online editorial magazine about the people, food, wine, culture and landscapes of Limoux, the Haute Vallée and the Aude.

Intended readership

The magazine is written for local readers and for international Francophiles, food and wine enthusiasts and travellers. Audience figures will be published only once they have been verified.

Opportunities

Display advertising — Banner placements with current rates and online booking where it is open, on the live rate card.

Newsletter sponsorship — By enquiry, subject to the publication schedule and availability.

Sponsored editorial — By enquiry, with an agreed scope, and always clearly labelled as sponsored.

Editorial and community partnerships — Proposals from local organisations and contributors with a story to tell.

Advertising never purchases favourable independent coverage. Sponsored content and affiliate or commercial relationships are always clearly disclosed.
